The MARYLAND GAZETTE.

[XIX*th* Year.] THURSDAY, May 26, 1763. [Nº. 942.]

BERLIN, February 19.

THE Evening of the 15th Inſtant, a Courier arrived from Leipſick, preceded by a great Number of Poſtillions, with Advice of the Peace ſigned between our Court, and thoſe of Vienna and Dreſden. It is not to be expreſſed how much Satisfaction this Peace gives to all Ranks of People. The Count de Finckenſtein, Miniſter of State, communicated this News to all the Foreign Miniſters reſiding here; and in his Letter upon this Subject to Mr. Verelſt, Envoy Extraordinary from the States-General of Holland, he ſays, that by this Treaty of Peace his Pruſſian Majeſty is reſtored to the Poſſeſſion of all the Territories which he was poſſeſſed of before the War; particularly to the County of Glatz, and his Provinces in Weſtphalia, and on the Lower Rhine; that he reſtores to his Poliſh Majeſty, all his Dominions in Germany; that the Circles of the Empire are comprehended in this Treaty; and that the Treaties of Breſlau and Dreſden, in the Years 1742 and 1745, ſerved for the Baſis of the preſent Treaty. Mr. de Finckenſtein concludes his Letter with ſaying, that his Majeſty flatters himſelf that the News of a Peace ſo glorious to him, and ſo intereſting to Germany, and Mankind in general, will be received by their High Mightineſſes with ſuch Sentiments as he has a Right to expect from the happy Union which ſubſiſts between him and the Republic of Holland. The Five following Articles contain the principal Points of the Treaty;

I. All Hoſtilities which have hitherto been committed by either Party, and the Damages which enſued from them, ſhall be reciprocally forgotten and forgiven. II. All Hoſtilities ſhall ceaſe from the Day on which the Treaty is ſigned; and all Effects which ſhall be taken after that Time, ſhall be reſtored. III. Within three Weeks after the Exchange of the Ratifications, the two high contracting Powers ſhall withdraw all their Troops from the Countries which do not belong to them. IV. From the Day of ſigning the Treaty, all Contributions of what Kind ſoever ſhall ceaſe, as likewiſe all Demands of Recruits, Waggons, Horſes, &c. The two contracting Powers alſo renounce all Arrears of Contributions, and likewiſe all Bills of Exchange that ſhall then remain undiſcharged, and which are to be returned. All Hoſtages ſhall be given up on both Sides, without requiring any Ranſom. V. All Priſoners of War ſhall likewiſe be releaſed, without Regard either to their Rank or Number, but on Condition that they previouſly diſcharge what Debts they may have contracted during their Detention. What may have been paid for the Subſiſtence of the Priſoners, and alſo for the Cure of the Sick and Wounded, ſhall be reciprocally renounced. Commiſſaries ſhall be appointed immediately for exchanging all the Priſoners of War; which ſhall be proceeded on within 15 Days after the Signing of the Treaty.

The Empire in general, and all its Princes and States in particular, are comprehended in theſe five Articles.

Vienna, Feb. 19. Tho' the Return of Peace gives us ſome Satisfaction, it ariſes ſolely from that Humanity which inclines us to wiſh an End to thoſe Calamities which have laſted but too long; for it is well known that the Treaty of Peace doth not add an Inch of Ground to the Dominions of the Empreſs-Queen, nor make any Reparation to the Princes that have moſt ſuffered by the War; ſo that the Blood that has been ſpilled theſe ſix Years, has been ſhed in vain.

Hague, March 1. Every Thing is regulating in Saxony, for the reſtoring the Electorate to its Sovereign. Both the Auſtrian and Pruſſian Troops are evacuating it, and the Saxons are in March to take Poſſeſſion of the Country.

They write from Ratiſbon, that the King of Pruſſia hath put under Arreſt the Jews who hath contracted for coining Money in Saxony, and hath ordered them to pay him in Gold 12 Millions of Pieces of five Crowns each, as a reaſonable Deduction from the Profits of their Contract.

The States of the Empire partly through Dilatorineſs, and partly from their Attachment to the Houſe of Auſtria, have been fleeced of above a Million Sterling, ſince the Battle by which Prince Henry glorioully terminated the laſt Campaign.

The French returned the Keys of Francfort to the Magiſtrates on the 24th.

Nuremberg, Feb. 26. Yeſterday the Prince of Stolberg, received Orders from his Imperial Majeſty to diſmiſs the Army of the Empire; in Conſequence of which, the Bavarian and Wirtemberg Troops will quit the Army the 28th Inſtant; and the Reſt of the Troops of the Circles will be diſcharged, and march to their reſpective Homes before the End of the Week.

Ratiſbon, March 3. The Emperor has been pleaſed to acquaint the Diet, "That he moſt heartily wiſhes that the Peace lately concluded may laſt to Perpetuity, towards which, he on his Part, ſhall apply his utmoſt Endeavours, in Hopes that the ſeveral States of the Empire will ule theirs jointly with him for the ſame happy Purpoſe, ſtrictly adhering to the Laws and Conſtitution of the Empire. At the ſame Time, commanding the general Officers of the Imperial Army, to return his Imperial Majeſty's Thanks for the Services they have done, and to diſcharge them, that they may return Home."

Hague, March 4. The Evacuations of Saxony go on in Purſuance of the Treaty of Hubertſburg; and the King of Pruſſia has aſſembled a prodigious Body of Cavalry near Magdebourg, to conſume the Remainder of his Magazines. The French are preparing to evacuate that Prince's Dominions upon the Lower Rhine, as ſoon as poſſible; and Detachments from the ſmall Pruſſian Corps in Weſtphalia are to take Poſſeſſion of the Fortreſſes which ſhall be reſtored, till ſuch Time as the Troops arrive, which are to form the Garriſon.

The Evacuations of the Pruſſian Dominions go on gradually. Cleves is already evacuated, and every Thing will ſoon be in theſe Parts, in the ſame Condition as before the War.

Berlin, March 5. The Ratification of the Deſinitive Treaties with the Empreſs-Queen, and Elector of Saxony, arrived at Hubertſberg the firſt Inſtant, and were immediately exchanged. This Day the Proclamation of his Pruſſian Majeſty's Peace with the abovementioned Powers, was publiſhed with the uſual Solemnities, in the different Parts of this City; and To-morrow Te Deum will be ſung in the Churches.

L O N D O N, March 1.

All the reſt it is expected will be ſent to Ireland.

March 5. The King of Portugal has made a preſent to Gen. Townſhend of a Diamond Ring, a Pair of Diamond Buckles, and a Gold Snuff-box, the whole worth 3000 l.

His moſt Faithful Majeſty has made conſiderable Preſents to all the other Officers of Diſtinction belonging to the Britiſh Troops employed there.

Yeſterday in the Forenoon a Company of the Grenadiers belonging to the Guards, and a Company of Hatmen arrived in Town. The Men looked very well, and had each of them a green Bough ſtuck in his Hat or Cap, to repreſent the Olive Branch of Peace. Some more Companies are landed a little below Yarmouth, which are expected in a Day or two.

The King of Pruſſia, upon withdrawing his Troops from Saxony, gave Orders that 30 of the beſt Men of each Regiment ſhould bring Home with them Saxon Wives, in Compliment to the perſonal Charms of theſe Women, and as ſome Reward to the gallant Soldiers.

Yeſterday there was the fulleſt Houſe of Commons that has been ſince the Commencement of the Seſſion. His Royal Highneſs the Duke of York was preſent to hear the Debates; the Right Hon. William Pitt, Eſq; attended the Service of the Houſe on the Occaſion.

March 8. The Subaltern Officers of the French Army, who have been diſbanded without any Pay, are ordered to repair to their reſpective Homes, and wait his Majeſty's Pleaſure. Were they to continue in Paris, their Number would make the Injuſtice of the Government towards them too apparent: Even in France the Miniſtry find it neceſſary to reſpect the People.

March 9. In Conſequence of the Principles of Œconomy that now take Place in the Affairs of the Public, the Nation is not to be burthened, we hear, with new Governments in the ceded and conquered Countries; our new Subjects are to be kept in Obedience by Garriſons in the Fortifications already built, and ſuch as may be conſtructed, governed by Fort Majors, who are to obey the Commander in Chief at New-York.

March 10. It is ſaid an additional Duty will be laid on foreign Wines and Cyder, for the Payment of the Intereſt of the new Loan.

Yeſterday a Perſon, who can neither walk nor ſtand, was married at St. George's Church, Hanover-Square, to a young Gentlewoman about 20 Years of Age.

By a Perſon lately come from Scotland, we hear, that in the Pariſh of Dalkeith, within four Miles of Edinburgh, there lives a Man who is 112 Years of Age, and is ſo hearty and well as to be able to do the Buſineſs that he has followed for upwards of 80 Years, which is, ſupplying the Inhabitants with Coals from the Pit, by two Jack Aſſes he keeps for that Purpoſe. He was always remarkably temperate, and was never ten Miles from the Place where he was born.

On Wedneſday as the San Janeire, a Spaniſh Ship of War, of 64 Guns, taken at the Havannah, richly laden, was coming into the Downs, ſhe parted from her Anchors in a hard Gale of Wind, and ran aſhore near Ramſgate. The Officers and Crew were all ſaved, except one Man, who was drowned in attempting to ſwim to the Shore, and a Quarter-Maſter killed by the Maſt when cut away. Great Part of her Cargo is alſo ſaved.

The Anna Maria, Goodhand, from Virginia to London, is loſt at Pembrey Sands, near Carmarthen, and all the Crew, except the Maſter and one Man, periſhed.

Extract of a Letter from Dreſden, Feb. [illegible]

"The Time at laſt is come when this poor unhappy Electorate is to be permitted to return to the Obedience of its lawful Sovereign, and is to be delivered from the Calamities of a War, which, had it continued a little longer, would have ruined the Inhabitants paſt recovery. Our Joy can be more eaſily conceived than deſcribed.

"The Anglo-Pruſſian Party ſay, that the Courts of [illegible] and [illegible] have made Peace [illegible] War, after England has [illegible] and the King of Pruſſia [illegible] that this Prince remains Dictator [illegible] the [illegible] Powers in the Empire [illegible] and [illegible] that his Country, [illegible] ed and depopulated, but that he [illegible] make it flouriſh at the Expence of his Neighbours. The Monarch is ſtill ſuſpected of meditating great Deſigns; which Suſpicion is founded on the Accounts received, that he keeps on Foot all his preſent Forces, and diſbands not even thoſe which made a part of the Allied Army, and which were lately taken into his Service. It is reported that when Word was brought to him, that the Terms of Peace which he deſired, were complied with, he ſaid, he had liſtened to an Accommodation, only to give a few Years Reſt to his Troops which were worn out with Fatigue, after which he would employ them to better Purpoſe, and with more Advantage, than he had done in this War. Some People imagine, that whenever he unſheathes the Sword again, it will be againſt a certain Northern crowned Head: The Dethronement and Death of Peter III. of Ruſſia, he cannot digeſt.

BRIDGE-TOWN, BARBADOS, March 24.

On Wedneſday the 16th Inſt. his Majeſty's Sloop Ferret, Peter Clarke, Eſq; Commander, arrived here with a very large Prize, about 600 Tons Burthen, mounting 24 Guns, 20 of which proved to be Iron ones, of 9 and 6 Pounders, which he took out of a Bay at the Weſt End of Porto-Rico, on the 22th of February. She was bound from the Carraccas to Cadiz, but put in there, where ſhe thought ſhe would be ſecure within a Reef of Rocks and Sands until the Ceſſation of Arms.—Captain Clarke, however, was not ſo eaſily to be baffled by the Difficulty of the Navigation; for after three Days Perſeverance, beating to and fro in Sight of the Enemy, ſounding to find out a Channel he at length got within the Reef, anchored along Side, and after an Engagement of above two Hours, the Dons betook themſelves to their Boats, and fled to the Shore, leaving ſome of their killed and wounded on their Deck. She is thought to be the richeſt Prize taken in theſe Seas during the War.

March 31. Richard Wilſhire, Eſq; who arrived here on Monday Evening, from St. Vincent's, brought Advice, That Mr. Neiles Anderſon, a Planter on the River Berbicia, who made his Eſcape with 126 Slaves from thence the 17th Inſt. arrived in the River Demarara the 20th, and gave the following Account:

That the Creole Negroes, at the Head of others, to the Number of 3000, on the 2d Inſt. took and deſtroyed 10 Plantations at Connoy; that on the 8th the Governor blew up the Fort, deſtroyed the Ammunition, and retired, with what Whites had eſcaped the Negroes on board two Dutch Ships which lay at the Mouth of the River. That he knew of between 40 and 50 Whites the Negroes had put to Death; and was told all that fell into their Hands ſhared the ſame Fate, even the Indians and Blacks that would not join them. That they declared, as ſoon as they had done their Buſineſs there, they would proceed to Demarara and Eſſequebo; and that they had long enough a white Governor, and would be no longer Slaves.

ANNAPOLIS, May 26.

Tueſday laſt his Excellency, in Council, iſſued his Proclamation, further Proroguing the General Aſſembly of this Province to the Firſt of October next, when It will meet for the Diſpatch of Public Buſineſs.

Laſt Week the Body of a Man was found on the Shore at Thomas's-Point. It is ſaid that a Man of the Name of Lecompte, was knock'd overboard in the Bay by a Boom, the beginning of this Month, and 'tis probable it was his Body, but it was much defaced.

On Tueſday laſt at a Horſe-Race, at Talbot County Court-Houſe, one of the Horſes fell, and kill'd his Rider, Francis McKenny, a Lad, who never ſpoke after the Fall.

We have the following Account from Aquia, in Virginia: On Friday the 13th Inſtant, about VIII in the Evening, they had there, a very ſevere Guſt with very large Hail: A neighbouring Planter's Dwelling-Houſe-Chimney was ſtruck with the Lightning. In the Chimney ſtood an Iron Spit, one End reſting on the Mantle-Piece, and the other pointing up the Chimney; exactly under it ſtood the Man's Son, a Boy about 7 or 8 Years of Age, who was ſtruck inſtantly Dead, and the Mantle-Piece ſhiver'd to Pieces.

We hear the Conſtant Betty, Brooks, in Ballaſt, for this Province, is loſt on Deal Beach.

Bladenſburg, 23d May, 1765.

SEVERAL People who once dealt with me, owe ſmall Ballances, which are very troubleſome to be continued on the Books from Year to Year; I will therefore be obliged to theſe People if they will pay off, or come and let me know that they want more Time.

Some few owe more conſiderably, and deal alſo at other Stores, whereby they have more Accounts to ſettle before they can know how their Affairs ſtand, which takes up their Time, and beſides it is ſetting an Example to lazy People, to get in Debt at different Places more than they can pay, which brings a Charge on the [illegible] for bad Debts, and thereby hinders Trade from affording ſo good Terms to thoſe who are Induſtrious, as ſuch People really deſerve. I will therefore be obliged to thoſe unſettled Folks if they will pay their Debts, by Credit with ſome Merchant, or otherwiſe, that I may be enabled to oblige my conſtant good Cuſtomers, as much as I incline to do; for it is very hard that indifferent Cuſtomers ſhould ſtop the Uſe of Money which is wanted for good Cuſtomers.

RICHARD HENDERSON.

N. B. I expect a fine Cargo of GOODS ſhortly.
